Why Did We Have This Meeting?

Building on National Convention 2007 Strategic Direction to strengthen our sectors, CUPE held its first ever National School Boards (NSB) sector meeting in Regina, March 2-4, 2009. The theme for this historic meeting was: Power up! Connect ~ Inspire ~ Achieve. Our hope for this meeting was to bring together school sector members, elected leaders and staff from across the country to engage in discussion about the schools sector; to define the issues we are confronting; to learn from each other, from our successes and challenges; and to develop creative, innovative and meaningful strategies to move our work forward; to interact and connect with our sisters and brothers to build solidarity and collaborate in our work.

Summary of Day 1: March 2, 2009

Opening Plenary

More than 270 delegates attended on Monday night as they listened to Dennis Omeasoo, a visiting elder to Regina public schools, welcome us to Treaty Four territory. He spoke about his current role visiting schools, teaching aboriginal and non-aboriginal students as well as their teachers, about First Nations ancestry and the impact of the Indian Act, and sharing the teachings found in traditional stories. His intention is to support good memories for children about Canada's aboriginal peoples by speaking about the life giving force of the circle. He encourages everyone to be open minded, "Being open minded has enabled some to even survive genocide". He invited all of us to 'share the light' with our families as we return home. Dennis' moving welcome set a positive and respectful tone for the remainder of the meeting.

Brother Tom Graham brought greetings on behalf of CUPE Saskatchewan, underlining the challenges that CUPE and the schools sector are facing with the regressive and anti-labour policies of the current provincial government.

Summary of Day 1: March 2, 2009

Opening Plenary

Brother Moist welcomed the delegates on behalf of CUPE National, and provided regional and national contexts for the meeting. He talked about the five-fold increase in CUPE membership since 1963 and the increase in women's participation, now 2/3 of the membership. Paul underscored that "public education is a gift to our whole society" and "history shows that people fought for the right to education and that it is a collective responsibility". Public education survives but we face many challenges. As Canada's public education support workers we believe in public education and oppose privatization including public funding of private schools.

The keynote address was delivered by Barbara Coloroso, an internationally-recognized speaker and author in the areas of parenting, teaching, school discipline, and non-violent conflict resolution and reconciliatory justice. During her keynote address and Tuesday morning presentation, Ms. Coloroso entertained delegates with a great sense of humour while informing us on the issues and impact of bullying, harassment and intimidation. Ms. Coloroso is well aware of the valuable role played by support staff in creating positive educational environments, and had numerous practical suggestions for making schools—our workplaces—safer and more nurturing. A video of Barbara's presentations will soon be made available on the CUPE website: www.cupe.ca

What is our context?

On Tuesday morning delegates focused on the CUPE schools sector presentation by Senior Research Officer, Paul O'Donnell. Paul covered a number of areas including recent bargaining achievements and challenges posed by demographic shifts and funding trends. The power point presentation was made available to the delegates along with other useful resources on a USB key.

Following the World Café, Barbara Coloroso focused her second presentation on bullying and how to deal with it. Both Paul and Barbara's talks will be video streamed on www.cupe.ca.

Why is this a priority for our sector?

- ❖ Reducing our bargaining unit – Children’s Safety
- ❖ Government say it’s cheaper but we know in long run costs more

How does this fit with CUPE’s Strategic Priorities?

- ❖ Lower wages
- ❖ CUPE is opposed to P3’s
- ❖ Public Services keep our society going

What needs to be done?

- ❖ Educate the public and our members
- ❖ Change Government
- ❖ Get our members to vote – and needs to participate in Politics
- ❖ Give our kids responsibilities

Who will do this work?

- ❖ We need national support to help with the work on this. We need face to face communication

By when?

- ❖ Sooner the better like now

FOLLOW-UP

Is there any follow-up on this topic that could happen at convention or elsewhere? By whom?

- ❖ We have been beating this to death
- ❖ Government is buying in
- ❖ Drastic change we have to think outside the box
- ❖ Parents are agreeing because it's more convenient in certain instances – (closer to home)

What is the one thing that you would like to see happen?

- ❖ We have to keep fighting
- ❖ Educate the public
- ❖ National has to put more resources to help the provinces stop this

Why is this a priority for our sector?

- ❖ There is very little language on this and see below

How does this fit with CUPE's Strategic Priorities?

- ❖ CUPE encourages our members to seek public office, yet there is no language protecting and assisting them, especially part-time elected officials.

What needs to be done?

- ❖ Language to cover part-time elected officials to take time off without pay to attend to public business.
Example: part-time mayor and councilors.

Who will do this work?

- ❖ We need to know this!?!

By when?

- ❖ ASAP

FOLLOW-UP

Is there any follow-up on this topic that could happen at convention or elsewhere? By whom?

- ❖ Should be negotiated & followed up at Bargaining Conferences?!
- ❖ Maybe a Resolution?

What is the one thing that you would like to see happen?

- ❖ Members should be able to take the necessary time off without pay to attend to public service without undue hardship. CUPE encourages members to seek Public Duty (service), but there is very little language to protect and assist them – especially for small communities with part-time elected officials.

What did women talk about?

Cheryl Stadnichuk, staff, and Sheila Bindig, Saskatchewan representative to the National Women's Committee (NWC), opened with introductions. Deb Taylor (BC representative, NWC) and Lori MacKay (PEI representative, NWC) provided a brief report on the recent National Women's bargaining conference. Women also reported on activities in their local/region for International Women's Day.

Sisters recommended the following proposal for action:

- ♀ Develop resolutions for upcoming division conventions as well as National convention, calling for increases in EI benefits to be higher than 55% of earnings. This is especially important for women in the school boards sector, who often do not have EI maternity top ups, and with low salaries could not survive on EI benefits for maternity leave.
- ♀ Question: Will CUPE National develop a new International Women's Day poster?

HOW DID WE DO ON OUR FIRST 'GREEN' STEPS?

We have a few more steps to take to make our environment audit accurate and comprehensive, however we were able to make a few approximate calculations with Environmental Defense's on-line calculator:

- ♻️ The truck we did not need to transport documents and materials from Ottawa to Regina eliminated 2.24 tonnes of CO₂ emissions
- ♻️ Our paper reduction approach:
 - ! Saved one tonne of wood, or the equivalent of eight trees
 - ! Saved 15 million BTUs of total energy
 - ! Saved 2,276 pounds or 1032 kilograms of carbon dioxide
 - ! Saved 7,403 gallons or 28,023 litres of wastewater
 - ! Saved 874 pounds or 396 kilograms of solid waste from going to landfill

Summary of Day 3: March 4, 2009

What powers you up and what will you act upon?

Some key points:

- ✚ We finally held a schools sector meeting and now we need to work together to make it work, to meet every two years and we need to get support from our locals in our provinces to make this happen.
- ✚ This conference powers me up. This began with our success in coordinated bargaining in Ontario. Where do we go from here? Keep communication open, continue our successes, and build on that together.
- ✚ J'ai fait partie de l'atelier bilingue hier où nous avons partagé de nos bonnes idées, particulièrement au Québec. Distribuez nos listes de courriels, connectez avec consœurs et confrères au Québec. Merci.
- ✚ I get wrapped up in my own problems, and here I run into like-minded individuals and it gives me strength to carry on.
- ✚ I am powered up because I attended the bullying workshop yesterday. It's a big problem and not part of our job to be abused in the workplace. Now I will reach out across Canada to share my documents with everyone.
- ✚ What I took away is that we get wrapped up in our issues about what's right and what's wrong. We try to be appropriate with the employer, trying to work on this and that but now I know that, excuse me, Employer, it's your job to give us a safe workplace!
- ✚ A number of people have been talking about provincial strategy for bargaining. Down the road, we need national standards for our classifications. I am not talking about standardizing credentials or qualifications, but what we should see in our contracts across the country. When we leave here, minimally, is a national solidarity pact with each other, so when we are in a strike position, we can have email blitzes, etc., to make sure that we get emails across the country that we should get good contracts. How can we share our email lists, we need those so we can support each other, on a go forward basis.
- ✚ I attended the workload workshop yesterday, and it is apparent to me that we all work in education, but none of us have problems that are different. We are worked to death with staffing cuts by our employers. Issues of solidarity: solidly overworked, and solidly unpaid. Sister said come together, because together we can fix the problem. Solidly we are being underfunded. We need to fight back. We need statistics from National, such as limits for square feet for cleaning. We must be willing to fight together and fight back.
- ✚ I am thrilled with the Canada School Boards' list serve. This will help us to continue being in communication with each other- an awesome way to stay connected with each other.
- ✚ We are overworked and underpaid. I am powered up, everyone doing the same thing across the country. At the same time I feel overworked by CUPE as well, as president of my local. We rely on National for the tools and to move forward we need more staff reps. This meeting is a power up, a great mechanism, but we need a further.

Summary of Day 3: March 4, 2009

I understand the issue of under resourcing. I represent other sectors of CUPE (besides education sector). I got a wake-up call when working with municipal sector and social services. We are in a superior position because we have pay equity, a job evaluation plan without increment steps. We have many resources that we do receive; we have excellent communications and research. It's hard with our rep trainees who sometimes don't have the experience but we do have great services. National's commitment to coordinate bargaining made our membership stronger. Yes, we have a lot of problems, but by far, we have better collective agreements and a better structure.

Yesterday we hosted a workshop on union solidarity and communication. The ideas were phenomenal. Communication is needed and must relate to the workplace specifically, or members will get lost. It will create an opportunity to see what's happening across Canada. Ideas for communication: bylaws, collective agreement language, new member orientation, newsletters. Union solidarity is important and we need to listen to our members. CUPE should also be out into the community, in coalitions, lobbying all levels of government. CUPE is like a tree, and is only as strong as our roots. We are the grassroots. We need to do education on who CUPE is and what we stand for.

We need an education sector link on the cupe.ca website, a place to post newsletters. We need to build partnerships with other groups, especially teachers. If we are going to build true strong community support, then we need true strong positive relations with teachers.

Feedback from Union Development: On the cupe.ca website, there is a link for education. The question is how it can be used and improved. We need to work with servicing reps, communications and research. Union development has courses on building coalitions, such as with teachers, and workshops on creating local websites, and other communications tools.

Feedback from Research: Some technological challenges with the list serve in posting large pdf documents however it is an excellent vehicle for communicating and we should test it to see if it meets our needs. We can exchange information, newspaper articles, local newsletters and talk about campaigns and other strategies.

- We might need a webpage dedicated to us. I will meet with Director of National Services, who is also here at this meeting, to see what resources can be mobilized to help us communicate.
- I am in regular contact with each staff coordinators working with provincial locals and committees; we hold regular conference calls, a conduit from national to the local level. My hope coming out of this meeting is to inspire each other's work and I am going to act on this.
- Finally, a reminder of the national sector meeting on the Sunday morning before National Convention, another opportunity to come together and focus on this sector. Encourage your locals from this day forward to attend if you can.

Summary of Day 3: March 4, 2009

What have we always wanted to ask our National Officers?

Fireside Chat with Paul and Claude

A review of questions on staff attrition, particularly retirement of servicing representatives; mentorship programs; injured workers committee possibilities; resourcing local elected leaders; local autonomy; appropriate funding to schools and school boards; communication tools. Synopsis of the main themes from the meeting included: advances on gender equality and sexist job classification, remuneration; living wages and implications for the schools sector; sound environmental advances and greening our union; bargaining power and local autonomy; opportunities for sector-specific collaboration.

Closing thoughts...

Claude Généreux commented on a recent article in a Montréal newspaper about education. He highlighted that in the past five-years, 240 schools have closed in Québec due to a mobile and diminishing population. He left us with the questions: How do we maintain public education within the community? How far have we come, and how much do we still have to do?

Claude felt inspired by Barbara Coloroso's presentation as he reinforced the need to break the cycle of violence and to bring her inspiring words into our workplaces and all areas of our lives.

Next, Claude underscored that the next step for our sector is a stronger collective commitment for coordinating bargaining goals to ensure living wages, decent working conditions, and pensions and benefits for all our sisters and brothers.

Finally, Claude left us with a 'Beginning', a beginning of a national dialogue among our sectors to build our national sectors and to harness our collective, national potential.

Kevin Rebeck thanked the delegates for their energy at this first national sector meeting. He also left us with a challenge: Dennis Omeasoo reminded us that stories are echoes of those you have gone before us. Kevin reminds us to be the echo back to our local. More work is required to move us forward. He proposes that we choose one person for within our region to commit to staying in touch.

What did we think of it all?

Wondering

- ? Is there a workload survey for administrative assistant's (secretaries) available from any research office similar to the EA workload survey in B.C.? If not, is it possible to receive a copy of the EA survey?

Dianne Mackenzie, CUPE 1770, PEI School Board
dmmackenzie@edu.pe.ca

- ? Re: male and female custodial vs. clerical

Is it possible to have two models of CUPE's Joint Job Evaluation criteria? It is gender neutral so isn't totally applicable to the clerical segment. We would like responsibility (example bookkeepers and money they collect and take to the bank) to have more of a weighing than lifting, carrying, hazardous chemical etc.

- ? In other provinces, do 10-month employees get credited for 1 year pensionable service? In Saskatchewan, they do. What about other provinces?

Cheryl Stadnichuk, Research Representative, Saskatchewan - 539-0446

- ! Local 593 – Mission. No. In mission we only get credit for the 10-months we work. Some EA's believe they will never be able to retire.

Margaret Weiss, EA Shop Steward, Local 593, Mission School District #75

- ! Council 1253, Province of New Brunswick – have an article in the contract, 10-month employees bus drivers get a year for a year

- ? Which locals have been successful in “contracting in” past “contracted out” positions? How did you accomplish this? Please contact local 4222 (Thames Valley District School Board #11) delegate to share information.

- ? How has your local dealt with trades retention in your board and how was this achieved?

- ? Would any locals be interested in exchanging their union newsletters/newspapers with our local 4222 (Thames Valley District School Board #11)? Please leave email address: cupe3550@telus.net.

- ? If whatever happens was supposed to happen...then what didn't happen wasn't suppose to and what might happen might not happen...what's happening?

What did we think of it all?

Evaluations

- ✓ I would suggest that you provide a “note taker” for the working groups. We had many members speaking with great ideas and I felt that some of this information was not written down! Also have a staff representative sit in and assist with the working groups.
- ✓ The overall conference was great. The workshops were good. Although I wanted to attend two groups that were on at the same time. Band was great! Delegates were very friendly!
- ✓ World Café and Working Groups were interesting (varied experience added to discussion) giving individual leadership within the session was a very empowering idea!
- ✓ What powers me 😊 Continued successes I’ve heard throughout the conference
- ✓ What powers me 😊 to keep National School Board meeting ALIVE! (on-going basis)
- ✓ Engage our members...through better communications
- ✓ T-shirts or sweaters should have been offered to members
- ✓ I’m not sure if preaching to the choir is the most beneficial use of this time.
 - I’m not sure if calling on “National” as the be-all, end-all solution to problems is realistic. Look within, you’re on your own
 - The “wheel” in many cases, has been invented. I need to know how and where to find the information to prevent me from re-inventing it
 - Barb Coloroso made me think. It’s Wednesday and I’m still thinking about it
 - Regina Inn should/could buy some sturdier tables, yikes, don’t lean on it
- ✓ This was an awesome conference. It was so good to talk to people with common concerns. We should do this every two years. Thank you, thank you. P. Hollingshead, VP local 1618 (Sunrise School Division)
- ✓ Please put member’s province on name tag
- ✓ Great insight into how other provinces deal with similar problems/issues
 - A+ when it comes to reduction of paper and waste (going green)
 - Imperative that we can continue meeting with our sector nationally every two years
- ✓ Positive way to develop session ideas from the group so we can attend what is of most interest to us.
- ✓ If provincial wide benefit plan saves money perhaps our board can pay LTD for 100%.
- ✓ For next time: a break-out session along job lines i.e. EA’s, secretaries, maintenance, etc. to discuss common issues and differences in work issues – successes and challenges, trends, etc. I was hoping/expecting a session like this.
- ✓ Scheduling the conference in the opposite year to the National Convention would be beneficial to budgeting for smaller locals. Allowing them to attend. Good start for S.B. Conferences look forward to next one.

What did we think of it all?

- ✓ More motivational videos, movies, presenters. At some times it was a bit dry, even if we had some music, or other activities to get us “Powered Up!”
- ✓ Coffee shop format was great!
 - Barbara Coloroso – AWESOME!!!
 - Working Groups – really informative – working together works
 - Next time: if time permits – it would be nice to have break out groups of like classifications to meet and discuss common issues and successes
- ✓ Should have been another day for people to connect move or even rest of today Wednesday
- ✓ Focus specifically on bargaining at these meetings
- ✓ Great conference! Barbara Coloroso was a fantastic speaker! Thank you for bringing her to this conference. The format as very good – sessions were informative.
- ✓ Conference should have been longer, too little time to discuss topics
- ✓ I would like to see break out groups by classifications at the next conference. Break out groups questions perhaps could put questions forward when we register so the questions are prepared in advance and we can sign up for our break out sessions when we arrive. Less confusion re: which room? Which question do I want to discuss? It would give us time to decide which discussion group we would benefit more from. As a local we could decide what sessions would we benefit more from and each member would attend one session.
- ✓ CUPE local 1522 (Lord Selkirk School Division #11) enjoyed this Power UP! Meeting. We think that it was well put together. We appreciate the green theme. We liked the choices off the board, so we could choose which sessions we could attend. Next time could you please put the provinces on our name tags.
- ✓ On name tags should have province and local number on them
- ✓ Very interesting conference
 - Barbara Coloroso was an excellent speaker!!!
 - Appreciated all efforts to have a green conference
 - Prefer not to receive the cotton bag
 - I liked the small group discussion and when we moved from table to table in the big group
 - Interesting to find out what is going on in different parts of the country
 - Suggestion: put province on name tag
 - Appreciated the positive mood of the conference
 - Liked V8 Fusion drinks
 - Signing up for breakout groups ahead of time would have made for less confusion but great idea for the topic sessions to come from members at large
 - Important to start every session on time. Once you start late, more and more people are late for the next sessions because why be on time when you sit for 15 minutes?

What did we think of it all?

- At the beginning of each session ask all people that plan to visit at their tables, to leave!
They are being rude to the speakers and disrupting all around them!
- ✓ Great conference – informative, great communications, how to communicate
 - Loved Barbara Coloroso – great choice
 - Great lunch
 - Overall, really enjoyed and looking forward to the next one. Great Job 😊
- ✓ Next time please please have classification groups i.e. Admin assistants, EA's, custodial, etc the opportunity to meet together and discuss common issues contract gains, perhaps by regions
- ✓ For the breakfast this morning we should have had the men with us. Everyone has issues; the point of conversation should have been open to all members communication
- ✓ A map in our packages informing us where some restaurants are, grocery stores, etc. I noticed the map taped up on to the wall – but wasn't until Tuesday
- ✓ I felt the presentation by the researcher to be too dry, long and information overload
- ✓ A fellow info geek says thanks for the info!
- ✓ Thank you for bringing Barbara Coloroso to this conference. She was energizing and right on target with realistic and do-able examples and strategies.
- ✓ Hotel worked very hard to make the rooms, food, etc serve us well!
 - Not crazy about the World Café style meeting. The questions and answers depend so much on the strengths/weakness of the group experiences etc.
 - Looking forward to the compilation document
 - Awesome speakers
 - As always, great networking opportunities
 - Green! Green! Green! Awesome!
- ✓ This meeting was very well planned and organized. I have learned a great deal. The best part was our group session where all custodians met and expressed the same concerns. I hope to attend more of this type of communications days. Thank you.
- ✓ Green is a beautiful color! And lighter on the suitcase for the return trip home 😊
- ✓ Would have liked more breakout sessions like this afternoon, including break out by job descriptions
- ✓ Try to limit speakers to 30-45 minutes max. Speakers here spoke to long
- ✓ Longer and one day more
- ✓ Too much Barbara Coloroso! – too long, two was too much repetition
 - Too little time to talk with one another (number of workshops should be increased)
 - #1 victory – we were at own table (we know everyone) move us around next time
 - Time set up for workshops 2 and 3 not good; too much in session 2 not enough in #3
 - Need format to hear what's going on across Canada depending on the workshop whether happened or not

What did we think of it all?

- ✓ Great conference, well organized
 - One thing that I really thought worked well was the process that was used to create the Tuesday afternoon discussion groups. Because the topics came from the delegates they were pertinent.
 - The location of the conference was fairly central. The facility was good. There was a great deal of good work begun. Hopefully we will follow through with the initiatives that were discussed
 - Suggestion: the name tags should have the province.
- ✓ A warm hearted welcome from all. Thanks Dennis Omeasoo.
